Describe the educational and informational objective of the program and how it meets the definition of Core Programming.	MAIN DIGITAL CHANNEL: Teen Kids News meets FCC requirements for "core children's programming" by providing educational features such as, "Flag Facts" (info on our state flags); "College and You" (tips for choosing and getting into college), "Word" (vocabulary skills training), as well as informational features for teens, such as reports about healthy eating; driving tips for new drivers, and internet predators. The show has been designed to meet needs of children and young adolescents with a unique curiosity about their world. The Program stimulates the 13-16 year olds' curiosity, develops their learning and cognitive, listening and thinking skills, and serves as an enhancement of their academic and educational experience. More than 10,000 schools are using TKN as part of their school curriculum and affiliate stations have already contacted school systems in that regard. The full scripts are available to provide easy access for teachers to use in their classrooms.

Include any other comments or information you want the Commission to consider in evaluating your compliance with the Children's Television Act (or use this space for supplemental explanations). This may include information on any other noncore educational and informational programming that you aired this quarter or plan to air during the next quarter, or any existing or proposed non-broadcast efforts that will enhance the educational and informational value of such programming to children. See 47 C.F. R. Section 73.671, NOTES 2 and 3.	The station began multicasting on September 1, 2011 and for the period covered in this reporting period, the station aired 6.0 hours of core programming on that stream. WLKY sponsors a weekly segment of "Wednesday's Child," which highlights special needs children awaiting adoption in Kentucky. To date, more than 3,800 children have been placed in permanent adoptive homes through the Wednesday's Child Program. On December 3rd, 2012, the annual Wednesday's Child Adopt-a-thon aired on WLKY from 7-8 pm. Children awaiting adoption as well as successful adoptive families were featured. Donations were taken from viewers during the special, with nearly $40,000 raised to provide educational and cultural activities to those children still awaiting adoption. Chief Meteorologist Jay Cardosi and his associates make visits to local elementary schools throughout the school year where they conduct presentations about weather. In addition, WLKY routinely provides tours for local students and student shadow sessions to point out broadcast opportunities. For the second year, WLKY participated with Breckinridge-Franklin Elementary School's Friday "Power Hour" sessions by sending staff to talk about various station job duties, such as photographers, production, reporters and sales and marketing directors. Children Liaison Director, Debbie Roberson, is a member of the Jefferson County Public School Advisory Board and served on the committee that redesigned the Communication, Arts and Media magnet school curriculum for three area high schools. From November 1-November 23, Morning Anchor Natasha Collins featured her school "Cribs" segment during the weekday morning newscasts, highlighting students and faculty at local schools along with their unique educational, athletic, arts and cultural program In March 2012, WLKY launched a comprehensive series of vignettes entitled, "Two Centuries of Black Louisville," aimed at educating and bringing awareness of African American history in our area. Consulting with the three authors of the book by the same name, these vignettes are chronicling significant and historical accounts for future generations.
